The meeting opened with singing and the club collect, and reading of reports. The nominating committee reported the slate of officers for the coming year and election will take place at the next meeting, which is the annual meeting and the last for the season. A discussion was held regarding what the club should do with some of its money, and it was voted to provide some shrubbery for the high school grounds, where the grading is to take place this spring. The Agricultural Department, under the direction of Prof. Edward H. Brown, will cooperate with the club, and they will procure native evergreens, set them out and care for them. A committee will be appointed from the club to confer with Mr. Brown for further plans. The club proposes to expend money to the extent of seventy-five dollars for this purpose.

A committee was appointed to look after the attendance for the Club Luncheon, April 7th, which will be held at Community Hall, including Mrs. Linnie Bartlett, Mrs. Helen Bickford, Mrs. Nellie Curtis, Mrs. Annie Carroll and Mrs. Anna Jacobs. Although she objects to being tied to a title and related an amusing incident of sending a title for a talk she was to give, after debating for an hour and a half with herself, and she discovered on arriving at the place that she had forgotten what she told them. On arriving, the Club president had also forgotten what she sent her. She knew what she was going to say, however, title or no title, so she penned no title to her address of Tuesday. A social hour followed and the hospitality committee served tea.

GETTING READY TO WORK

Nate Merrill is fitting himself for a licensed plumber. He recently went to Wassee Cottage to see if the snow should be shoveled off the roof. It needed it. He returned and got a shovel and went back to the cottage. Forgetting to tell the folks where he was, he returned to the village, leaving the shovel leaning against the building.

On his return, the shovel was gone. He goes to Frost Corner and borrows one, going back to the cottage,, and discovers he has no ladder. Another trip was made to the village.

It was dinner time. After eating, he went back to clean off the snow. The step ladder proved to be too short and necessitated another trip to the village.

With unforeseen difficulties overcome, he cleaned the snow off the roof in just ten minutes of reasonable activity. Another hour was taken in returning the tools.

Nate is to apply for a plumber's license. He is qualified.

Talks on Africa—Typewriter Awards

Norway High School has received word from the Committee on Admissions at Dartmouth College that the high school has been granted full certificate privilege by the college.

Howard Catlin, who lived for seven years in the vicinity of Johannesburg in the Union of South Africa, spoke to the geography class two days last week. Mr. Catlin's work was among the Zulu race, where he was a missionary. He gave a little insight into the Zulu language, which he speaks fluently. He also gave the Zulu yell. BATES—WEST PARIS

Freeland Herrick Dead—Tablet Placed in Library—Plans for Easter Services P. T. A. Supper.

The funeral of Freeland N. Herrick was held Tuesday, March 17, at 2 p. m., at the Baptist church. Rev. A. E. Roberts officiated and a quartet made up of Ella Z. Berry, soprano, Anna W. White, alto, W. D. Edmunds, tenor and R. L. Cummings, bass, with Laura McKeen, organist, sang "When the Mists Have Cleard Away", which was requested by Mrs. Herrick.

Mr. Herrick died at his home on East Main street, Sunday morning at the age of fifty-one. He has been poorly for a year or two past with heart trouble and at times would have to lay off from his work on the railroad section for a time. In the fall he spent several weeks in the Maine General hospital in Portland and had improved sufficiently to return to his work a few weeks ago, but was taken worse again about a week before his death. He had erisipelas in his arm and hemorrhage from the nose, but Sunday morning said he was feeling better when he suddenly passed out. He was the son of Nathan and Hattie (White) Herrick. His wife, who was Lora Bryant, is left to mourn her loss, also two brothers, Geo. Herrick of Auburn and Charles Herrick of Massachusetts, three sisters, Mrs. Irene Holt and Mrs. Lillian Stront, Mechanic Falls, and Mrs. Varina Tenney of Poland; two uncles, Charles White of Massachusetts and Reuben Churchill, Mechanic Falls, an aunt, Mrs. Orphia Faunce of Massachusetts and several nieces and nephews. He was a member of K. of P., St. Elmo Lodge of Mechanic Falls and the Railroad Men's Brotherhood, five of whom attended the funeral in a body. Howard McKeen, Gerald Swift, Frank Webb and Lauri Immonen, near neighbors of the deceased were pall bearers. There was a good number of relatives and friends present and beautiful flowers evidneed love and esteem.

Your correspondent wishes to correct the statement made in last week's issue in regard to the death of Mrs. Mary Harriman Curtis, saying that her present name was Van Curran, for she had less than a year since married Howard Chase of Mechanic Falls, her third marriage. Mrs. Chase was left a widow of George Curtis, her first husband, with ten children, the youngest only a year or two old, all of whom survive her; also an aged father, Frank Harriman, South Paris, one brother in the west and one half brother, Fred Hendrickson of South Woodstock. The funeral was held Thursday, Mar. 12, at 1:30, Rev. Vivian Townsend of the Advent church assisted by Rev. A. E. Roberts of the United Parish church. Freeland Herrick Dead—Tablet Placed in Library—Plans for Easter Services

P. T. A. Supper.

The funeral of Freeland N. Herrick was held Tuesday, March 17, at 2 p. m., at the Baptist church. Rev. A. E. Roberts officiated and a quartet made up of Mrs. E. Berry, soprano, Anna W. White, W. D. Edmunds, tenor and R. L. Cummings, bass, with Laura McKeen, organist, sang "When the Mists Have Rolled Away", which was requested by Mrs. Herrick.

Mr. Herrick died at his home on East Main street, Sunday morning at the age of 69 years, one. He has been poorly for a year or two past with heart trouble and at times would have to lay off from his work on the railroad section for a time. Last fall he spent several weeks in the general hospital in Portland and improved sufficiently to return to his home a few weeks ago, but was taken sick again about a week before his death. He had erisipelas in his arm and blood poisoning from the nose, but Sunday morning said he was feeling better when he suddenly passed out. He was the son of Freeland and Hattie (White) Herrick. His wife, who was Lora Bryant, is left to mourn her loss, also two brothers, Geo. Herrick of Auburn and Charles Herrick of Massachusetts, three sisters, Mrs. Irene Cummings, Mrs. Lillian Strout, Mechanic Falls and Mrs. Varina Tenney of Portland, two uncles, Charles White of Massachusetts and Reuben Churchill, Mechanic Falls, an aunt, Mrs. Orphia Faunce of Massachusetts and several nieces and nephews. He was a member of K. of P., Mechanic Falls Lodge of Mechanic Falls and Brotherhood of Railroad Men's Brotherhood, five of which attended the funeral in a body. Frank McKeen, Gerald Swift, Frank Lauri Immonen, near neighbors of the deceased were pall bearers. There was a good number of relatives and friends present and beautiful flowers evidenced love and esteem.

Your correspondent wishes to correct a statement made in last week's issue with regard to the death of Mrs. Mary Curtis, saying that her present husband was Van Curran, for she had less than a year since married Howard Chase of Mechanic Falls, her third marriage. Mrs. Chase was left a widow of George Curtis, her first husband, with ten children, the youngest only a year or two old, all of whom survive her; also an aged father, Frank Harriman, South Paris, one brother in the west and one half brother, Fred Hendrickson of South Woodstock. "... and didn't she Blow!"

Chimneys down . . . trees uprooted . . . roofs blown off . . . debris piled up everywhere!'

You never can tell about windstorms—where they will strike or what damage they will do.

The safest thing for you is to add Windstorm Insurance to your property insurance schedule. True, this won't prevent damage, but it will find you indemnified against loss in case the wind does blow.

Insured and Assured

Metropolitan policyholders—including about one-fifth of the total populations of United States and Canada—have built up their reserves from millions into billions.

THE financial story below is a record of achievement by men and women who are planning to avert want or to build estates. You may admire their steadfastness of purpose last year under handicaps which tested courage.

These people—policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—are building for their future. They would like to know what the future holds in store for them and for the country as a whole.

Let them, and other citizens, examine any chart of our country's unparalleled prosperity over the past hundred years. It appears, not merely as a jagged line, but as a series of towering steps which rise steadily onward and upward.

It is heartening now to recall that, after each depression, our country has always gone forward to greater heights of prosperity and better, sounder standards of living. Today this country has more riches and better facilities than ever before with which to commence her next great period of development.

A review of the financial history of the United States since it was founded in 1783 should turn any pessimist into an optimist.

The Metropolitan will gladly mail, free, a booklet, "The Development of Prosperity in America", telling of past ups and downs—and ups again—and how soon the "ups" followed.

DAWN

By Elva Dorr

Dull, gray skies—cold, blue hills, with patches of white—stately, dark pines—naked white birch like rigid sentinels—pointed firs—earth covered with newly fallen snow.

Into this setting, quietly comes the dawn. Silver clouds begin to move where there were none before. Clouds arching like the fronds of misty plumes whose soft, yellow quills are thrust into the heart of the rising sun.

Color spurts forth. Pearl grays turning to pastel-apricot, orange, vermillion; dyeing each feather at last with crimson lake. Now, they are massed and blended into a great, gorgeous feather fan, the arch extending along the horizon to the snowy crown of Mt. Washington, turning it to rosy-mauve.

Aurora pauses for a moment watching her colors blend into a perfect whole. Then, slowly recede to the heart that gave and the risen sun bursts in all its golden splendor on a sleeping world.

LEMON AIDS

Everyone knows that hot lemonade is good for a cold and cold lemonade is an excellent beverage for a hot day.

Do not think for a moment, however, that the little lemon's uses are so easily exhausted.

When towels become dingy, put them in a pan of cold water with soap and lemon juice. Heat gradually to boiling point. Rinse in lukewarm water and blue as usual.

To clean the white keys of the piano, rub with paste made of whitening and lemon juice.

When aluminum kettles become dull or black, clean them with a cloth dipped in lemon juice, then rinse in warm water.

When whipping cream, add three or four drops of lemon juice to a cup of cream to make it stiff and firm.

A teaspoon of lemon juice added to the water in which lamb or veal for stew is cooking will add to the flavor and tenderness of the meat.

An Inefficient Daughter

Parent—You ask for the hand of my daughter. Can you wash, darn, sew, nurse children and keep house?

Suitor—What has that got to do with it?

Parent—Well, my daughter can't.

Second Girl—We are for the present. I want to find out what Madge told her about me.

First Nail-Making Machine

On December 28, 1810, was patented the first machine for making wrought iron nails. Seth Boyden of Foxboro, Mass., was the inventor. The invention was of great importance, because prior to this time nails were made by hand.

Defunct Cataract

What is known as the Grand coulee of the Columbia river is a cliff more than 400 feet high with the Columbia at its foot. This is evidence of the presence at one time of a great cataract over which the river once flowed, producing a spectacle greater and probably grander than Niagara.

Grateful, to Say the Least

The funniest wedding I ever attended was the one when, after the ceremony, the father of the bride walked up to the bridegroom to congratulate him, and being rather excited and a bit rattled, he grasped his hand and said: "Much obliged."—Capper's Weekly.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

George W. Cushman of Bryant Pond called Friday afternoon to renew his subscription for another year. The roads, he said, were not too bad, coming this way, but the state aid road to Rumford had been blocked with drifts.

A letter postmarked Upton, containing 10 cents, with the blank, was received. Nothing was written on the blank, hence we can't send the paper. Who sent it? Another from Casco with blank and name and no money. Envelope not sealed.

Lawrence Wyman, Arthur Crooker and Harry Bell, attendants at the Upper Primary School, brought to the office a package found in the street near the schoolhouse. It contained a busted and much used inner tube. The owner may have it by calling at this office.

Years back, C. B. Cummings & Sons Co., Norway, bought some fuel to feed the boilers. Last summer they had the heating system "overhauled" and this winter they have been selling sawdust and shavings. Whether returns on fuel sold will off-set interest and depreciation on improvements we know not, but the facts are as above stated.

Forrest Ives is the first to report at our desk about seeing the early robin. The bird perched in an elm tree on Cottage Street, March 17, was chirping away like a prima donna. With snow two feet deep early returns from violets, anemones, Mayflowers, whistling frogs and running smelts does not seem probable.

In regard to the school children snowballing on the streets, a woman remarked the other day: "I was out with my baby one day and bang! came a hard snowball, hitting my carriage, scarring the paint and snow going all over my blankets and baby's face. It really isn't safe to take children out when the school children are coming home from school, they are so careless with their snow balls."

"About five weeks more and the lake will open" is a familiar expression around the haunts of local fishermen. It won't be long now, according to the records. Last year the ice went out April 14. In 1928-1929 dates were April 27 and April 26, respectively. Something held up the event in 1926 until May 3. Fixing a date in advance is a gamble on the face of this variation, but all do it and get the thrill.

Prince "Jimmy" Steward, one of our printers in the back shop, is gaining after a trip to the hospital for surgery. He was forced off the job four weeks ago and is now growing restless under the enforced imprisonment about home. We expect to have him with us before long. Fred Paul has been the emergency boy during our town report rush, but he has escaped the old time experience of seeking type lice. The insects don't breed around gasoline.

Dr. F. E. Drake of Portsmouth, N. H., formerly of Norway, writes that snow is nearly gone and the crocus blooms in front yards. "Expect to be harvesting worms for bait" is his cheerful news. He enclosed an obituary notice of Edward A. Goudey, who many here will remember as a foreman in the B. F. Spinney & Co. factory about thirty years ago. The deceased died at the age of 58 years.

Durwood H. Mason of Bethel, formerly of the Press Herald Circulation Dept., called Monday, to pay his respects to the Sports Editor, and brush up on some of the deviltry both pulled off when classmates at Gould Academy. Just now he is representing The Edward Tailoring Co., having Oxford County for his field, with special emphasis on senior classes. Gard Goddard of Norway, another Bethel native, was his pilot and chauffeur.

The Livermore Falls baseball association is the first in the Pine Tree League to get underway. At a meeting, March 11, officers were elected as follows:
President—Louis Brown.
1st Vice Pres.—Dan Taglienti.
2nd Vice Pres.—Lincoln Hatch.
Sec. and Treas.—Amos Hebert.
Auditors—Pete Ouellette, Edmund Roy.
Directors—Ralph Reynolds, Harris Waite, George Fish.

It was agreed to hire one player-manager, the appointment to be made at the next meeting, March 27.

We have been invited to attend "A Monster Dinner in Portland," Wednesday, April 8, at the Eastland. There is to be fish talk and other foolishness. All of which is sponsored by the Pine Tree Fish and Game Protective Association and Frank W. Wardwell. We accept the invitation with profusion of thanks and shall not be present as on that date—we —seriously begin overhauling fishing tackle for the season's campaign.

We are just that thick-headed as unable to see why savings accounts in National Bank should not be taxed. The Fernald bill in the legislature looks fair and reasonable. We doubt if any "financial economic structure of the State would tumble" if it should become a law. We fail to see any reason why savings accounts in National Banks should not be taxed. What are they, please?

Many "Ifs" sent in:

"If we can get rid of prohibition and substitute some form of regulation; if we can deport all aliens; if we can feed our own hungry and clothe our own naked; if we can educate our own and leave foreign peoples to their own beliefs and devices; if we can furnish employment to those of our own who need it, and devise means to force the lazy to work; if we can employ an army and navy of sufficient size to protect our own country, and keep our noses out of European affairs; if we can use just old-fashioned common sense—why then, we can jog along."

A. R. Clark writes from St. Petersburg, Fla., and says: "Plan on starting this week so as to be ready for fishing when the ice goes out. We are having some wonderful weather here now. Festival of States comes next week, then the people begin to go home, large crowd here. Sumner Hancock is gaining fast, was out to church yesterday. Their daughter, May, is here on a visit. Our Maine Society is going good this year. Had a mock town meeting last week. Mr. H. H. Chamberlain was moderator, had a lot of fun. About three hundred and fifty Maniacs out. Days are getting some longer, sun rises at 6:40 a. m., sets 6:38 p. m.

SOUTH ALBANY

Theodore Brown is working at Harrison.

Lucie Kimball, Frederick Scribner and Donald Brown were at home over the week end from high school.

W. P. Rickett and son, Carl, of Portland spent a few days last week at their home here, returning to their work, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Canwell is doing some spinning for Estella Bean.

Walter Canwell and Ernest Grover went to Norway, Wednesday, March 11, after a load of grain and supplies.

Robert Hill's children are having the whooping cough.

Durward H. Mason of Bethel, formerly of the Press Herald Circulation Dept., called Monday, to pay his respects to the Sports Editor, and brush up on some of the drollery both pulled off when classmates at Gould Academy. Just now he is representing The Edward Tailoring Co., having Oxford County for his field, with special emphasis on senior classes. Carl Gothard of Norway, another Bethel native, was his pilot and chauffeur.

The Livermore Falls baseball association is the first in the Pine Tree League to get under way. At a meeting, March 11, officers were elected as follows:
President—Louis Brown.
1st Vice Pres.—Dan Taccienti.
2nd Vice Pres.—Lincoln Hatch.
Second Vice Pres.—Amos Hebert.
Secretary—Pete Ouellette, Edmund Roy.
Directors—Ralph Reynolds, Harris Write, Gerry Fish.
It was agreed to hire one player-manager, the appointment to be made at the next meeting, March 25.

We have been invited to attend "A Master Dinner in Portland," Wednesday, April 8, at the Eastland. There is to be fish talk and other foolishness. All of which is sponsored by the Pine Tree Fish and Game Protective Association and Frank W. Wardwell. We accept the invitation with profusion of thanks and shall not be present as on that date—we seriously begin overhauling fishing tackle for the season's campaign.

We are just that thick-headed as unable to see why savings accounts in National Bank should not be taxed. The Fernald Bill in the legislature looks fair and reasonable. We doubt if any "financial economic structure of the State would tumble" if it should become a law. We fail to see any reason why savings accounts in National Banks should not be taxed. What are they, please?

Many "Ifs" sent in:
"If we can get rid of prohibition and substitute some form of regulation; if we can deport all aliens; if we can feed our own hungry and clothe our naked; if we can educate our own and leave foreign peoples to their own beliefs and devices; if we can furnish employment to those of our own who need it, and devise means to force the lazy to work; if we can employ an army and navy of sufficient size to protect our own country, and keep our noses out of European affairs; if we can use just old-fashioned common sense—why then, we can jog along."

A. R. Clark writes from St. Petersburg, Fla., and says: "Plan on starting this week so as to be ready for fishing when the ice goes out. We are having some wonderful weather here now. Festival of States comes next week, then the people begin to go home, large crowd here. Sumner Hancock is gaining fast, was out to church yesterday. Their daughter, May, is here on a visit. Our Maine Society is going good this year. Had a mock town meeting last week. Mr. H. H. Chamberlain was moderator, had a lot of fun. About three hundred and fifty Maniacs out. Days are getting some longer, sun rises at 6:40 a. m., sets 6:38 p. m.

Norway Church History

Early Days Among the Denominations Showing the Part the Local Churches Have Taken in the Growth of the Town

BAPTISTS

The first Baptist society in town was organized in the village in 1806 with ten members released from the Paris church to form a neucleus for a number already in town. Rev. John Wagg ordained in October, 1806, was the first minister and labored for three years. For the next eighteen years, the society was without a pastor, but in 1827 Rev. John Haines was settled and remained until 1836. Rev. Reuben Millner was the next minister and with the exception of two years, he served his people until 1858.

Prior to 1839 all services were held at the homes. That year Capt. John Rust, a son of the proprietor of Rustfield, gave a lot of land, and a church building, formerly used by the Universalists, was purchased and moved across Main Street to a lot a little north of the upper primary schoolhouse. Years afterwards the building was sold and changed into a tannery, operated by Lee Mixer and Ceylon Watson. A revival in 1840 brought many additions to the church. During the early 80's the society went into a temporary decline.

The Baptist edifice now standing on Cottage Street was erected in 1889 and the pulpit being supplied by the South Paris society for a number of years. Rev. Edward S. Cotton was settled over the society in 1901. The church flourished and proved to be a strong factor in civic righteousness. He remained seven years.

John Harding, a theological student, served the society for a time prior to 1900 and many young people were baptized and received into membership. He entered theological school to complete his course and for a time students and ordained ministers supplied, the last being Rev. G. Howard Newton of the South Paris Baptist Church, who became the settled pastor ten years ago. As a born organizer, he recruited the departments and has built up a working organization true to the standards of the doctrine.

The parish has suffered heavily by the passing of staunch supporters with the burden falling upon the shoulders of a few. But an active Christian Endeavor Society and Sunday school are training young people to continue the work.

Among the sturdy pillars of the early denominational activities were the Millets who resided on farms in the district known as Millettville. At least three generations have been identified with the church, especially Dea. Nathan W. Millett, who passed away in 1900. A daughter, Miss Mercy E. Millett, is carrying forward his work and one of the prominent members.

EPISCOPALIAN

The history of Christ Episcopal Church on Paris Street, Norway, started in 1896 around a small group of that faith. As a result of missionary work, five persons were baptized into the Episcopalian faith by the very Right Rev. Henry M. Sills, Dean of St. Luke's Cathedral, in Portland. The Bishop of Maine then made his first visitation and confirmed seven persons.

Rev. Marcus H. Carroll, recently graduated from the General Theological Seminary, was placed in charge. The services were first held in Ryerson Hall, adjoining the Advertiser building, and the hall made over so the services could be carried out so far as possible in regular form.

Their numbers increased and in 1897 steps were taken for the building of a house of worship. A lot on Paris St., at Green Street corner, was secured. Donations of building material and labor, together with money, poured in from many sources and the church was finished that fall. The building was consecrated free from debt in February, 1898, Bishop Neely being the consecrater, and assisted by well known clergymen in the Maine Diocese.

Rev. Marcus H. Carroll conducted the first regular communion during one of the most severe blizzards for the winter. The Guild which had labored hard during the campaign for a building continued its activities and the neucleus of resident worshippers flourished. During the summer many visitors from the cities attended the services and contributed generously.

Rev. Mr. Carroll resigned in August, 1898, and for years the society was without a settled rector. Finally, it was made a mission by Archdeacon Seymour, who had charge. He provided lay readers and clergymen on vacation for services a few weeks each summer.

Rev. Arthur J. Langlois was settled here for one year and there have since been a number of ministers-in-charge for a time.

Of late years, the mission has been closed, except through July and August, but the church organization functions the year round.

ROMAN CATHOLIC

The Roman Catholic parish in Norway and South Paris has been in existence since 1893. For some years prior clergymen from Lewiston and Portland visited the few families here at irregular intervals, but in April, 1893, Rev. Fr. M. D. Summa, of the Dominican Fathers of Leiston, formed an organization and the communicants gathered on one Sunday each month for mass at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Emeley, in South Paris.

In 1897 land was bought on the Paris side of Alpine Street and a chapel erected, much of the money was raised by public subscription. The chapel was dedicated by Very Rev. Michael C. O'Brien, Vicar-General of the Diocese of Maine. For a few years mass was said twice each month with the parish under the care of Rev. James A. Flynn of Yarmouth.

About the year 1899 the building was damaged by lighning and fire. Repairs were made, but this calamity brought to a head plans for a more elaborate place of worship somewhere less remote from the main highway and more convenient for worshippers in both towns.

The present lot, opposite the fair grounds, corner Charles and Paris Sts., was bought and the chapel moved there. Samuel Felt of Greenwood, with fifteen yoke of oxen, hauled the building across fields and the branch track in two days.

Extensive repairs were made and the chapel completely remodelled. About this time the mission was separated from Yarmouth and Rev. Joseph Drolet sent here as a resident pastor. The Paragard stand on Paris Street in Norway was bought of the W. C. Brown estate for a rectory and Rev. Philip J. Boivin was among the first priests to occupy the premises. Father Boivin was popular with his people and made friends in Protestant denominations. He resigned for duties as chaplain in the U. S. Army during the World War and Rev. Charles J. Cassidy was in charge a few years. Ill health caused him to give up his duties to Rev. James E. Redden, who remained two or three years.

Rev. John F. Brady is the present pastor and the Catholic parish has grown rapidly under his business administration. The church interior has been re-decorated also a gallery built for the chair, and the building painted outside. Shrubs about the grounds add much to the good appearance. A confessional was built as an outstanding improvement.

The social life has been emphasized, with the annual lawn party and sale, also gatherings in the rectory, and a public hall as a part of the activities to bring the people together. Father Brady was instrumental in converting a room over the rectory garage into an attractive place where the young people may gather evenings for entertainment and good fellowship.

The local parish is strong and has the support of many Catholics in Oxford, Hebron Academy and Bridgton.

Summer residents attend mass and their contributions are generous.

Other religious sects have made more or less impression on the community in their efforts to practice and teach a small following.

Years ago, the Adventists gathered some strength in the northern part of the town and supported a chapel. Meetings have been held at irregular intervals, but of late the members, while remaining steadfast in their belief, have become useful workers in other denominations.

The Christian Scientists are not organized, but a considerable number of believers may be found in Norway. About fifteen years ago, a society flourished under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Mundy, with reading rooms and a meeting place on Temple Street. Soon after their departure from town, interest in the meetings waned, but the group kept together for study and discussions.

Spiritualism has been represented here for many years, but never gained sufficient strength for an organization. Years ago, circles conducted by prominent out-of-town mediums were common in the homes, and well attended. At the present time interest in the spiritual meetings has been revived.

From the foregoing church history, we learn that Norway has had its variety of denominations and religious sects and at the presênt time we have six churches, Universalist, Congregational, Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal, and Catholic.

In the past few years there has been a movement abroad in the country of consolidation, not only in business, but in churches, for more effective work. Church Union and Federations have taken place in a great many cities and towns doing away with denominationalism and setting forth the one standard—a belief in God, in Jesus Christ, in the Holy Spirit and the teachings of the Scripture.

Why have all these denominations anyway? Their day of usefulnes is over, if they ever had one. Denominationalism is only another phase of war and its abolition among churches is as urgent as is the abolition of war between nations. Both are destructive to civilization because they destroy the fundamental principles upon which civilization and Christianity are founded. If you stop to think of it, what has brought about denominationalism anyway?

In the first place, misbehavior among Christians—some claim a monopoly on heaven or hell, some taking one shade of belief, the other another; one interprets the Bible this way, while the other takes it another way and sets up a denomination in its own defence and, from all these different shades of understanding come into the world two hundred and eighty odd different beliefs, all based on Christ and His teachings.

This denominationalism throws christians on a bias, instead of being the natural individual that he should be, living so that his behavior in the everyday affairs of life is superior to that of the non-christian. When one's denomination separates him from other Christians or does not allow other Christians to join his church unless they conform to his interpretation or does not allow him to sit at the Lord's Supper because he is not of his denomination—there is something radically wrong.

The fact is that denominations exist and that they have never exactly learned how to behave toward each other. From this attitude, there is a belief abroad that Christianity must be cured of this denominational bias in order to get in line for the right attitude toward all Christians. There is no justification for denominationalism because it is contrary to the laws of life as they are now interpreted. It of course, will be impossible to do away with all denominationalism all at once, but it is coming at some future time. There is at the present time a decided interest in unifying the Christian forces of the world and thereby gain Spiritual power for the Christianity of Christ.

The ideal church is a personal discipleship around Jesus Christ, all being members of the family of God on earth, a brotherhood trying to conquer hate, pride, and falsehood by practicing trust, honesty and truth. This would mean a re-united christendom—Protestants would trust Catholics and Catholics trust Protestants and treat all denominations alike, and the members of the united church would offer themselves for fellowship with all who have received Christ. There is nothing to lose by acting decently toward each other and everything to gain.

Wrongs and Remedies

The writer read with much interest Mr. R. L. Cummings' "Thoughts on Agriculture" in last week's Advertiser. One among the many good ones, struck me so forcibly that I feel to add a "thought" to it. It is this in substance, "There is a remedy for every wrong", or anything out of gear. This was about the first thing that was learned when a student at law and his experience for more than half a century has made it plain to him that nothing is truer. What is the trouble, then, that there are so many bolts loose, and so many things "off the trolley"? The answer is that those who run the machine are incompetent to handle it properly, and the people still keep electing to office persons not fitted for their positions.

Some years ago I heard an address made by the then Commissioner of Agriculture at a Grange meeting at South Waterford. He set forth clearly enough the disadvantages and the tax inequalities of the farmers, but strange to say he had no remedy and the burden of his talk was that it all must be submitted to with as good grace as was possible. That one listener, at least, had a very weary feeling to hear that kind of talk, goes without saying. I made up my mind that that official was out of place. The farmers of Maine are now, as ever, in a great majority, and if they cannot apply suitable remedies for the unequal tax burdens they bear, whose fault it it but their own? The remedy for tax burdens is very simple and that is to cut out schemes and measures which benefit the few at the expense of the many, and this applies to towns as well as to the state. The talk that the tax payers must submit to all the burdens that are put upon them by schemers and pap suckers, with as good grace as possible is exactly the stuff the tax boosters like to hear.

It happens that this man who made the address spoken of at South Waterford, has been mentioned for Governor of Maine, as Fred K. Owen, "the announcer of candidates for office", has heard over the political wires. Great Scott! What good would such a Governor as he would make, be to the farmers of Maine? And can they afford to elect any man to that office, who would sign any kind of a measure, whether good or otherwise, that schemers managed to get through the legislature? If the people want relief, fair dealing and prosperity, they must get rid of incompetents and sit down hard upon schemers, papsuckers and tax boosters.

Circle Entertained—Grange Activities

Guy Parker, Jr., has been ill and under the doctor's care.

Clinton Andrews moved a cow for Harry McKeen from Irving Green's, last week.

Hester McKeen finished work for her sister, Beryl Green, and returned home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Harriman and son, Robert, and Ella Harriman, took dinner, Tuesday, with Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Brown, in Norway. They attended the matinee at Rex Theatre.

Mrs. Alta Meserve and Mrs. Bertha Laroque entertained the Circle Friday, March 13. There was the usual good supper. There being no picture after the social time the crowd broke up at an early hour.

Members of Kezar Lake Grange under the able coaching of Mrs. E. M. Parsley, former instructor of English and dramatics, presented the play, "A Poor Married Man" by Eben H. Norris, at the Oxford County United Parish Carnival at North Waterford, February 28, and again at North Lovell Grange Hall, March 5. Both performances were before large audiences and launched the literary year with great success. The theme of the play was as follows:

Professor John B. Wise, aged 27 (H. McKeen) has married a charming lady, Zoie, aged 20 (Alta Meserve) whose mother, Mrs. Iona Ford, aged 48 (Bertha LaRoque) insists on accompanying the pair to their new home, much to the disgust of the groom. His friends mistake the mother for the bride and relate to the professor escapades of the mother's husbands and her daughter. Prof. Wise naturally thinks they are referring to his wife instead of her mother. A dashing college boy, Billy Blake, age 20 (I. McAllister) and a pretty reporter, Rosalind Wilson (Daisy Chamberlain) and a colored servant, Jupiter Jackson (H. B. McKeen) add to the professor's growing suspicion. Finally, he becomes convinced that his wife means to poison him.

The bride, who has married the professor at her mother's instigation, learns that she really loves Billy, and when the mother learns that Billy is, wealthy and that he is in love with her daughter, she determines to divorce the professor from Zoie. She is successful in this and in the first instance marriage is a failure.

The professor marries again after a year and he selects a girl, June Graham (Yvonne LaRoque) who will not encumber him with a mother-in-law, but to his horror, her innocent father, Dr. Matthew Graham (H. Harriman) is trapped into a marriage with the woman who caused all his former trouble and Mrs. Iona Ford once more becomes the professor's mother-in-law. But Billy, who has been on a trip around the world, has located Mrs. Ford's original husband in China. All ends happily and all pronounce marriage a distinct success.

Five candidates were instructed with the first and second degrees at Kezar Lake Grange, No. 440 of North Lovell, Wednesday, March 11. The work was done in a very impressive manner, by Norway Grange. About thirty-five members from Norway Grange, eight from Bear Mt. Grange, North Waterford, and some from Frederick Robie Grange, Otisfield, were present at the initiation, besides the home grange. After the work, a delicious supper of baked beans, salads, cold ham and pastry was served in the dining room. This was in charge of Mrs. Nettie Hill. A literary program consisting of readings and a comedy farce and dancing rounded out a very enjoyable evening. Wednesday evening, Mar. 18, Paugus Grange of Fryeburg worked the third and fourth degrees on the above candidates. There was the usual harvest supper. Visitors are welcome from all granges.

Lillian McKeen, Sophie Butters, Lester Butters and Paul Adams went to Lewiston, Wednesday.

Mrs. Herbert McAllister is ill and her daughter-in-law, Marjorie McAllister, is caring for her.

Lester Fogg is in town from Lewiston, where he is working.

Angie Rowe, teacher at North Waterford, spent Saturday night with Hester McKeen.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grover and children called on Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McKeen Saturday evening.

World Famous COMMANDER with free wheeling

Here is America's utmost Eight value at $1585 TO $1730 AT THE FACTORY

EVEN without Free Wheeling, Studebaker's world famous Commander Eight would still be the biggest value for the money in America.
The Commander is a car of generous wheelbase—124 inches—a comfort further enhanced by Studebaker's famous ball bearing spring suspension.
The Commander engine develops 101 certified horsepower—the greatest power per cubic inch, with two exceptions, to be found in any American motor car. The two exceptions are the engines of cars costing, roughly, $1000 and $3000 more than The Commander!
Commander performance and comfort thus form an ideal natural background for the joy, the economy and the safety of Free Wheeling.
Free Wheeling with positive gear control, as introduced by Studebaker and adopted, unchanged, by Pierce-Arrow and Lincoln, gives you silent gear shifting at all speeds—freedom from clutch-pushing—12 to 20 per cent proved gasoline and oil saving—incomparably restful, zestful motoring—and the added safety attested by public traffic officials from coast to coast.
One drive will convince you there is no value comparable to this seasoned Eight by Studebaker, Pioneer and Pacemaker. May we place a Commander Eight at your disposal?
The Commander Eight Four-door Sedan is $1585 at the factory. Other Commander Eight models range in price from $1585 to $1730 at the factory. Bumpers and spare tires extra.

Remarks on Apple Situation

As Viewed by W. A. Delano, an Apple Grower. Places Blame

I was much interested in Mr. Cummings' thoughts on agriculture in the Advertiser of March 13, especialy in regard to our apple situation. I picked nearly 400 barrels of apples this season. Sold some 140 to 150 barrels for $1.00 to $1.15 per barrel, and decided, everything considered, and the price of labor to handle them, that it was better to feed the remainder of them. To go back will say I thought of writing Simons, Webling Co., successors to Simons, Suttleworth Webling Co., but on account of the stories I had heard, thought it of no use. After it was too late to remedy things, I wrote, and here is the letter I received: "Yours of March 2 received. It certainly does seem too bad that we did not get together this season, for upon looking in my records I find I sent you December 31st, 1927, a check for $844.54, covering proceeds of 206 barrels of apples.

"Prices this season have not been quite as high as 1927, but we have had some splendid returns, especially from Hamburg. Some lots have netted over $3.00 per barrel here, but I should say returns would run mostly around $4.00 per barrel. I am sorry you did not communicate with me as I would have advised you to ship to Hamburg, as there was no inspection required on apples shipped to that market.

"At the beginning of the season it was the intention of having all apples inspected, but this regulation was not enforced on shipments to Hamburg and we have been shipping to that market since the middle of October. For some unknown reason we overlooked sending you our market reports, but in the future if you have a fine crop of apples I wish you would write in and I will give you the best advice I can in regard to the disposal of the fruit.

"Until November 15th, no apples were allowed to be shipped to Liverpool that showed any maggot or traces of same, also we could not ship anything below the grade of U. S. No. 1's, but this regulation was changed after the above date and the only inspection required was for maggot. We are still shipping some apples abroad, but only those that have been carried in cold storage. I would be very much pleased to hear from you at any time."

It seems to me that we as farmers are greatly at fault in not finding out for ourselves. Take no man's word that comes in a round about way, but go to headquarters and get the facts.

Mr. Cummings speaks of the 2nd barrels of apples under the snow here in Maine. In my way of thinking it is our fault that they did not go on the market or a portion of them. You might say they would drop the prices. Supposing they did a few cents, the consumer would benefit and I think we would all be better off, than do as we did—stay at home, work hard and blame the other fellow for what we are in reality to blame for.

DOGS TO BE REGISTERED, NUMBERED, AND LICENSED

Section 158. Every owner or keeper, on the first day of April, of a dog more than four months old, shall annually before the tenth day of said April, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed for one year commencing with the first day of April aforesaid, in the office of the clerk of the city or town where said dog is kept, and shall keep around its neck a collar distinctly marked with the owner's name and its registered number, and shall pay to said clerk for a license the sum of one dollar and fifteen cents for each male dog and for each female dog incapable of producing young so kept, and five dollars and fifteen cents for each female dog capable of producing young. SUMNER

A little more than two weeks back, our Ruler from above sent us down a snow storm of a good liberal depth of 16 inches. Now close following that drop, it was announced that our Twin City man, who makes the weather for this section, told someone on the quiet that soon we would be in the midst of another snow storm nearly, if not quite as heavy, and by golly, he was right, for Sunday, the 8th, it began to snow and kept at it until we had received, rather contrary to our desire, fifteen inches this time and practically everything blocked. Rural Delivery, also the mail car traveling to and from Redding to East Sumner, whose driver never thought of such a thing as trying to operate. While it is said that Donald Varney started out on due time with his Big Reo with the plow attached, though after making a mile or so under difficulties, owing to the snow being so damp and heavy. Donald connected with Mr. Cole, the road commissioner, by phone, and they thought it not advisable to try and operate owing to progress being so slow and Donald returned to his garage, while the tractor kept on, also more or less under difficulties, mostly owing to the snow banks being so high from the recent breaking. However, the plow kept on, both day and night, and at this time, the 13th, still has several miles to go.

Oh yes, these over-sized snow storms of course have made it rather unpleasant for a great many, while in one case near here, Joseph Bosse and sixty-five cords of birch, far up on the side of Long Mountain, consequently Joe had to lay off some of his teams and put his men to shoveling out this road as the snow is a good four feet, and the distance it is said to be nearly one mile. While on the other hand, the Summer Gentler Sex Snowshoe Club are having the time of their lives and just as the storm ceased, Mrs. Linn Farrar and her sister, Miss Helen Bonney, and Miss Grace Bartlett, snow-shoed across country one day, where they spent the afternoon with Mrs. Charles Tuttle, returning home that evening in the same manner, also by reading the daily papers we must consider ourselves fortunate, after all, as so far our storms are not a drop in the bucket, to be compared with the awful damage recently caused along the New Hampshire and Massachusetts beaches by the high tide.

While the writer and Mrs. Bartlett and sons, Irvin and Jerry Bartlett were returning from Rhode Island and Massachusetts, last summer, we drove many miles along these beaches, and in particular, we parked the car for nearly an hour at Hampton Beach, where there must have been nearly one hundred people in bathing and little we thought those charming resorts would ever come to such ruins as we have read of in the dailies.

Linn Farrar carried a party of ladies to a dinner that was served by the Wm. A. Barrows Relief Corps, No. 79, at the West Sumner Church, Thursday, the 12th. Mrs. Linn Farrar and mother, Mrs. Corry Bonney, and daughter Helen, and Mrs. Emerson Bartlett. The attendance was a record breaker, it is said.

Floyd and Donald Varney finished yarding pulp in the green woods, Saturday night.

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

We Should Advertise Maine's Salt Water Fishing

Another Opportunity to Add to Maine Popularity

Here's what Harry Adams, former president of the Catalina, California Tuna Club says of our opportunity:

"The tuna fish of California and the horse mackerel of Maine are the same kind of a fish, Harry W. Adams of Los Angeles, Calif., formerly president of the Cataline Island Tuna Club recently told the Brunswick Rotary Club. The only difference in that the largest tuna ever caught in California waters weighed 251 pounds, while in Maine they rarely weigh less than 350 pounds and run as high as 800 pounds. The fisherman, who is angling for tuna feels a strike like that of a trout, then the fish starts running and will take anywhere from 500 to 1,000 feet of line. Tuna fishing in California waters began as a sport in 1896. Mr. Adams came to Maine to fish for tuna in Casco Bay, where last summer he caught one weighing 650 pounds, which took eight hours to land. He feels that the fishing in this vicinity is even better than off the coast of California and that if properly advertised the tuna fishing in Casco Bay and probably all along our coast could be made as much of as it is in the Pacific."

Passing Bad Checks

Pleaded Guilty to Bad Check Charge

Sheriff W. O. Frothingham and Deputy Sheriff Cummings of Bethel arrived in South Paris, Wednesday with two men alleged to be the pair wanted for passing bad checks. They were arrested at St. Johnsbury, Vt., after passing through Oxford County into New Hampshire.

The sheriffs started for St. Johnsbury, Vt., to get a man said to have been driving a machine he bought of Peter Gay of Lewiston, and which was equipped with Gray's dealer plates 702-B. Instead they found the man walking the highway toward Lancaster. It is claimed he had swapped the car for a Star touring car at Meredith, N. H. The prisoner who used the name of Harold Stevens of Canton, admitted his name is Leona Cole.

At St. Johnsbury, Sheriff Frothingham took into custody James Smithy of Rumford. Smithy is said to have tried to pass one of the Bethel bank checks at the Army and Navy Store, only to be arrested by police when the proprietor became suspicious.

Both men were arraigned in the Norway Municipal Court before Judge R. J. Dow, Thursday morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of uttering forged bank checks. They were bound over for the Superior Court in May, each in the sum of $1,000.

Captain Coe Addresses High Schools

Captain George C. Coe of Lowell was the speaker Friday morning at the assembly of the Norway high school at 8:2[illegible] and on the same morning at 10:30 at the South Paris high school assembly.

The speaker took for the theme of his talk a quotation from the Engineering News-Record, describing the Hoover Dam. "With five million yards of concrete, thirty thousand tons of structural steel, seventy miles of grouting holes, tunnels of from fifty to seventy feet in ameter, and with two thousand tons needle valves, this structure which is set in the path of the turbulent Colorado in a sheer walled narrow gorge, at the bottom of an inaccessible desert canyon in the remotest region of the United States, constitutes a working rank with the greatest ever attempted by human hands."

To get a concrete idea of the project as a whole, he said: "One must consider not only the Hoover dam, but the All American Canal, the power line to the Pacific coast. The supply of water for Southern California, and the immense artificial lake, which will control for the lands below what might be devastating floods."

The speaker then took up the parts of the project, discussing and illustrating by blackboard sketches the steps which have been taken and showed how they were related to make a single project. The difficulties of construction and highlights of the engineering problems were discussed.

Come Economics Class Visits—Cabaret Friday

The Home Economics classes have made two very interesting trips, recently. The first was to the Grange Hall on Thursday, March 12, to see demonstrations of cane and rush seat weaving. The visit was through the courtesy of Miss Edith Buck and the local Farm Bureau. The rush seat weaving was on a chair which Elizabeth Holman is repairing and refinishing as a Home Project. The girls also saw end tables, smoking stands, and ferneries in the process of construction.

On Friday, March 20, all of the Home Economics classes journeyed to Oxford and there visited the woolen mills. The trip was especially instructive and was made possible through the kindness of Mr. Stiles of Oxford. The local town people and students hwo furnished cars did their part in making the trip possible. Such splendid cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Miss Phebe Allard completed the Stenographic Course at Bay Path Institute on March 6. She was prominent in student affairs, acting as secretary for the Secretarial Department last year, and secretary for the Maine and New Hampshire Club this year.

The Commercial Club is putting on a Cabaret Friday evening in the gym. Several interesting specialty acts will be presented by the gifted members of the Commercial Club. This is for the members of the school and personally invited guests.

The Senior High ranks will be out with a after vacation. School closed this Friday for a week's vacation.

Our debating teams succeeded very well last Friday evening. Gould Academy debated here. Vera Frakes and Wilfred Conary represented Norway. The decision was 2 to 1 for Gould and Wilfred Conary was voted the best speaker. Charlotte Longley and Violet Upton represented Norway at South Paris. The decision was 3 to 0 for Norway. Violet Upton being voted best speaker. The question was: Resolved, That chain stores are detrimental to the best interests of the American Public. These four were the only ones who stayed out for debating, and they deserve much credit for what they did for N. H. S.

Ruth Stearns, Vera Frakes and Arlene Saleeby have won competent typist certificates. Olive Michie and Alice Bonfrance have won the 60 word competent typist pin.

Eight of the eleven papers sent to the National O. G. A. Contest qualified for membership certificates in that order.

Robley Morrison is at home from the C. I., Pittszeld, for a week's vacation.
